EARL GREY'S PROTEST.

Earl Grey, our late Governor General, has done Canada and the Empire good service in protesting against the foolish and unjust imputations of disloyalty which Mr. Austen Chamberlain has been making against the Laurier Government, and in declaring his personal conviction that reciprocity would have been a benefit and not a blow to the cause of Imperial trade. As Governor General of Canada when the reciprocal arrangement was made, Earl Grey was excellently situated to know the economic facts upon which the arrangement was made and also to judge the motives of his advisers who recommended its acceptance. If this protest serves to restrain the freedom with which some selfish tariff boosters in Great Britain have been wont to call the loyalty of leading Canadian statesmen into question, it cannot fail to have a salutary effect upon the development of good feeling and of mutual respect and confidence on both sides of the Atlantic. If it does not also lead Mr. Chamberlain and his friends to some needed thinking as to who are the friends in Canada of the ideal they claim to have at heart, the fault will be in their unwillingness to learn, and not in the failure of the facts to point the obvious moral.

The ideal of the tariff advocates in Great Britain has been a system of Imperial preference, by which there should be free trade—or as near it as possible—between the British Dominions. It was the Government which negotiated the reciprocity arrangement which years before that cut down the duty on British goods entering Canada to two-thirds that charged on foreign-made goods. "That" was the first price that ever was taken toward the establishment of Inter-Imperial preference or inter-Imperial free trade, a "fact" that should surely not be taken into account or ignored by those in Great Britain who claim to cherish it as their political ideal.

In making the reciprocal arrangement it was provided that Canada should be free at any time to further reduce her tariff against British goods, and the Minister of Finance had framed the existing preference—plainly stated Parliament that the intention of the Government was to make such further reduction.

Thus, while the reciprocity arrangement proposed to increase the purchasing power of the Canadian farmers by opening to them a market of ninety millions of people, the British manufacturer was to be allowed to sell his goods in Canada not only under the already favorable terms, but upon better terms. From the standpoint of the British manufacturer the proposal was to both make his customers in Canada more prosperous and also cut down the cost of getting his goods to them. That surely was not a proposal to meet with objection from any British interest, least of all from those in Britain whose special desire is to promote the growth of trade between Great Britain and Canada.

And what has the cause of Inter-Imperial preference, to hope from the Government which came into power in Canada as the opponents of reciprocity? Where is the late Government proposed to increase the purchasing power of the Canadian farmer, by enlarging the market for his products, and to also lessen the tax which has to be paid on British goods entering Canada, the present Government has not, and does not pretend to have, any scheme, policy or desire either to enlarge the farmer's market or to facilitate the entrance of British goods to Canada. On the contrary, the present Ministry exists and can only continue to exist by the support of those whose interest it is to prevent the farmer securing the larger market, and those whose interest it is to exclude British and all other foreign-made goods from Canada. What is there in this situation that any advocate of Imperial trade should cheer for?

Remarked on the Side

There is a man in Edmonton who alleges that of five parcels recently delivered to him only one has arrived, and he concludes that the parcel not yet received will be a decided benefit to some people.

One of Ottawa comes open chairs, which he claims to be of the highest quality, and he offers to sell them at a price which is a little below the market. He is a little Liberal or else a little Conservative. In Britain now, after all that is said, the majority benefits now payable under the insurance act are of popular that every new boy or girl is either a Lord-George or a Lloyd-George.

Governor Sticker, of New York state, thinks it is quite right to be severe on drunken chauffeurs, because even when one has had a few drinks, one should be able to drive. On the other hand, the average chauffeur, who made his way to do all the driving, may be inclined to think he stands a better chance when his adversary is a sober driver.

Will Not Split on Pains.

Chicago, Jan. 17.—James J. Perry, confessed leader of the band of automobile bandits, who have committed a series of daring robberies in the past sixty days was questioned by the police today in the hope that he might disclose the names of his accomplices. "There were four of us," he said, "and we were all of the same age, and all of the same name, and all of the same family. I have told all I am going to about those holdups."

Creeps Up Behind Wife Sitting in Chair and Prostrates Her Dead With Hammer, Afterwards Committing Suicide.

Clarence Creek, Ont., Jan. 18.—Creeping up stealthily behind his wife, William Gauthier, of Orient, Ont., 45 years of age, armed with a small nail hammer, and actuated by jealousy, raised his hand and brought down the weapon with tremendous force on her head. She fell from her chair unconscious.

Apparently fully conscious of what he had done, the old man went to the room, picked up a razor, and killed himself with a razor. When the wife recovered consciousness and crawled to the door and out into the street, calling for help. Help came from the police, on the opposite side of the street, and the tragedy was then first revealed.

William Gauthier was a farmer, aged 60 years, the last twenty years of which were spent on the six acre farm abutting the main street at Orient. His wife is 54 years of age and there are five boys and three girls.

The condition of Mrs. Gauthier is very serious. The blow on the top of the head fractured the skull bone, and the one on the forehead fractured the frontal bone.

CAPTAIN OF WHITE STAR FREIGHTER INDIGNANT

Deep Sea Quarrel Being Aired on New York Waterfront—American Freightliner First Disturbance Ignored Assistance Offered by White Star Steamer.

New York, Jan. 18.—A deep sea quarrel was aired along the wharves today, when the White Star freighter, Armenia, arrived from Liverpool. The Armenia was the vessel which tried to help the Hamburg-American freighter Albatross when she was drifting helplessly with a broken shaft and rudder. Captain Jacobson, of the Armenia, is indignant, because, he says, the disabled steamer ignored his offers of assistance.

The Armenia, said Captain Jacobson, stood by the Albatross until daylight, firing bombs and burning signal lights, but receiving no answer. When a ship—because the latter may be one of the former, and one of the latter may escape.

Asked whether the concentration of money and credit was a menace to the country's prosperity, an American witness told the "United Fruit" committee that the question reminded him of the conundrum: Why is a mouse when it is very small, but if it is very large it is a mouse? The committee is to decide whether the mouse is a mouse or a mouse is a mouse.

The Emperor Francis Joseph, who used to live at four in the morning and retire to rest at 3 p.m. sharp, has now, it is alleged, added half an hour to his working day, by rising at half-past three. As the Emperor has no part in hard to understand, unless he is acting upon the famous advice to still further prolong his days by cutting a lot of his nights.

The boy who "stood on the burning deck" when all but he had fled, has found dangerous rivals in the cabin and mate who climbed on to the protruding propeller of their steamer, and in the Mersey, and refused to be rescued. Pending receipt of word, whether the incident was comic or tragic, but one may surmise they left their cold perch after the photographs had not been taken.

SUFFRAGISTS PLOT
RAID ON PARLIAMENT

Mrs. General Drummond, Chief of Mrs. Phyllis's Staff, is Organizing a Large Force of Police Officers to be in London.

London, Jan. 18.—A new source of excitement has been provided in the House of Commons by the discovery of a militant suffragist plot to raid the chamber next Monday, the day on which the Government hopes to take up the committee stage of the Franchise Bill.

Mrs. General Drummond, chief of staff to Mrs. Phyllis, is the organizer of the affair, and is now in view is taken of the matter that special warnings have been issued to the House of Commons, and the police will include all classes of working women, professional as well as industrial, and Scotland, Wales and the industrial centres of the north are sending up strong contingents.

Throughout the debates on the franchise bill leading actresses, members of the Address Franchise League, propose peacefully to picket the House of Commons, and the Women's Freedom League is organizing daily picket lines around the House.

The National Union of the Women's Suffrage Societies, a body which is adopting a strictly constitutional propaganda, will be lobbying with personal letters, bring to bear on the politicians the influence of its greatly increased membership.

Everywhere the opinion is expressed that the most crucial moment in the history of the women's suffrage will begin next week, and the policies of many of the societies may undergo a significant revision as a result of the expected developments.

AUSTRIA PAYING 6% PER CENT. FOR LOANS

London, Jan. 17.—Austria has borrowed $25,000,000 on treasury bills, paying practically six and a half per cent. Both the domestic and foreign trade of this country is expanding. A fact which means only one thing so far as the demand for money is concerned.

Another reason for the high rate of interest demanded from so financially sound a nation as Austria is that the money market here has an agreement to secure a high rate of interest.

the fog arose in the morning the Albatross steamed away. When she reached Halifax recently it was learned that she had been able to make temporary repairs, and for this reason found it unnecessary to accept the aid for which she had signalled.

"I think it was shabby treatment," said Captain Jacobson today. "This is what we got for returning a lost distance and spending considerable time in their service."

A wheel drive and retail will be held under the auspices of the Northern in the Oddfellows' hall, Richards block, White avenue, South side, on Friday evening, Jan. 25th, commencing at 8 o'clock.

FUNERAL OF THE LATE POLICE INSPECTOR THIBBETTS—Despite the intense cold of the afternoon, there was an immense turnout of officers to pay a last tribute to the late Police Inspector Thibbets. I should have mentioned the fact that the members of the Edmonton Police Force lined up on Jasper Avenue, between Queen's and McLeod, preparatory to marching to the residence of the late Inspector Thibbets, No. 2 in a view of part of the funeral procession just before it left the residence at the corner of Fourth street and Jasper avenue.

ONE VICTIM IS IDENTIFIED AS SIDNEY DAVIES

Room-Mate of Young Real Estate Office Man Identified Charred Remains.

WERE TOGETHER ON NIGHT OF KER BLOCK FIRE

Story of Joe Pavick is Confirmed by Identification of the Body.

That one of the charred and almost unrecognizable bodies taken from the smoldering ruins of 747 Fourth street, which was wrecked in the explosion that destroyed the Ker block last Thursday night, is that of Sid Davies, aged 21 years, a real estate salesman, residing at 129 Fifth street, was proven beyond all doubt Saturday.

H. H. Gray, a room-mate of the dead youth, E. H. Lacey and A. T. Landis, of the Sturgeon Realty company, 419 Fourth street, for whom Davies worked, and Rev. D. R. Sharp, assistant pastor of the First Baptist church, of which Davies was a member, all viewed the body and Comely and McKim's undertakers, before Friday night and by means of the last burned remains of clothing, identified the body as that of Sid Davies. One shoe, a buttoned shirt, a portion of the trousers, and a tie clip were the chief means of identification.

No Other Bodies Found.

No further bodies have yet been found in the debris, and the other body, already found, has not yet been identified.

Sid Davies, according to Gray, his room-mate in the Fifth street boarding house, had been in Edmonton only a short time. He had been working for the Sturgeon Realty company for about two weeks. His home is in London, Ontario, and he has a brother-in-law in Winnipeg.

From the story told by Gray to the Bulletin Saturday Davies undoubtedly was the young Canadian that Joe Pavick, the keeper of the well-known boarding house, told of as having come into the house just a few minutes before the explosion. With a request that he be allowed to warm himself. Five minutes later the building was flaming wreck. The body of the unfortunate youth was the first one recovered Friday morning, about half past seven o'clock.

Davies and I, with Mr. Lacey and Mr. Landis, said Gray Saturday left our office about eleven o'clock. We went by the fire engine and saw if we could not get warm. He said on one side and I stood on the other for a few minutes. That was the last I saw of him alive. I went over to the hotel a few minutes later so to get warm, and I suppose Sid must have gone into the house that was wrecked.

Identification Positive.

All those who knew Davies, and who saw the remains declare that the identification is positive.

It was Friday afternoon before any real alarm began to be felt over the missing youth. Gray worried somewhat when he did not return at all Friday morning, but concluded Davies must have stayed to watch the fire. Then when the boy did not come home during the morning, and did not report at the office, Mrs. Sloan, of 129 Fifth street, where Davies roomed, became alarmed, and reported the facts to Dr. Forin, coroner.

According to the coroner, the inquest into the death of the two victims taken so far to have perished in the fire, will be held early part of next week. The enquiry will be searching, and an attempt will be made to learn just what caused the explosion in the Ker block, as the coroner is inclined to believe that smoke and fumes alone would not have caused an explosion of the force required to wreck the whole building.

The search for additional victims will be carried on tomorrow and on Monday, it is expected. The debris is still very hot, and all last night and this morning flames would continue to burst from piles of masonry and timbers.

WOMEN STRIKERS ATTACK POLICE WITH HATPINS

Fierce Riot in New York in Connection With Garment Workers' Strike.

New York, Jan. 18.—When hatpins and umbrellas, several hundred women found the riotous scene in one of the fiercest riots since the beginning of the garment workers' strike. A policeman who tried to protect male strike-breakers was severely beaten.

The officer arrested one woman, but had to summon twelve more policemen before he could get her prisoner to the station. The police accomplished this by forming a hollow square, which was kept on all sides by the battling garment workers.

Fifty women were arrested when another riot, which started when the women assaulted a truck driver delivering mattresses for the use of strike-breakers.

Mr. Macon was selected from among fifty applicants from Europe, Canada and the United States. His compensation will be $25,000.

CITY SAVES MONEY BY FIGHTING CLAIM

Motorman John Smith Claimed $25,000 Damages From City For Injuries, and is Awarded $200 By Justice Walsh.

$200 has been awarded by Mr. Justice Walsh in a summary suit to John Smith, formerly employed as a motorman by the city, who was injured by being crushed between two cars.

Smith was a motorman on the parking plant route and on September 25 last while at the western end of the route, he got off the car to change the headlights preparatory to returning to the parking plant. While he was fixing the light another car approached and he was crushed between the two.

According to medical evidence Smith's spine was injured and he is now unable to lift his hands above his head.

He claimed the sum of $25,000 damages, $100 for medical fees and expenses and $25 for loss of time.

John Cernack appeared for the plaintiff, and J. C. Y. Brown, city solicitor, defended.

The city, while alleging contributory negligence on the part of the motorman and denying liability, paid into court $25, which the judge considered sufficient to meet the case. Plaintiff has already been paid his full time for twelve days after the accident, and had his surgeon's and hospital bill amounting together to $101 paid.

BRITISH DOCTORS ARE RELEASED FROM PLEDGE

British Medical Association Decides Against London Physicians Who Have Used Organization Fictitiously Against Lloyd-George's Insurance Act.

London, Jan. 18.—The members of the British Medical Association today decided by a vote of 115 to 150 to release physicians from the pledge they had given not to serve under the national insurance act, which provides a monetary allowance and medical attention to the working classes during sickness.

The opposition of the doctors to the scheme of state insurance was based on the amount to be paid them, for their services, which they declared to be small. It was, however, expected that politics had much to do with the doctors' resistance, especially in London.

The majority at today's meeting was composed entirely of London practitioners and the campaign against the act continues in the metropolitan.

POWERS WILL FORCE TURKEY TO MAKE PEACE IN BALKANS

Turkish Ambassador to Germany Hints Assails Joint Note From Powers.

London, Jan. 18.—Günar Nizim Pascha, the Turkish ambassador to Germany, who is in London in connection with the peace negotiations, issued a statement today, bitterly attacking the European powers for their attitude in the joint note delivered to the Porte.

"Four months ago," he said, "Europe proclaimed its determination to maintain the status of things existing before the war, whatever the result of the conflict might be. Now the powers are making open admission to the possible loss by Turkey of Constantinople and some of the Asiatic provinces."

"What reliance can Turkey place on the powers' promise to exclude all mention to the security to Turkey when Europe has just given tangible evidence of how little her promises are worth."

May Strike in sympathy.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 18.—Forty thousand Chicago garment workers may be called out on strike next week in sympathy with New York workers. Officials of the United Garment Workers are said to have discovered that certain manufacturers are sending orders here to be filled. Their assertion that unless shipment of goods is stopped at once a general strike will be ordered in all the shops controlled by the employers' association.

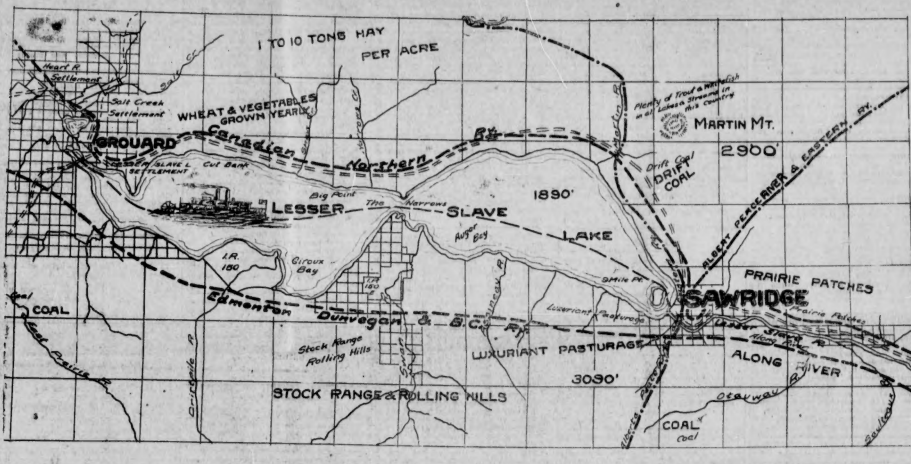

Thomas T. Hackett, president of the United Garment Workers, who is in charge of the New York strike, telegraphed local labor officials to stop assisting garment manufacturers, even if it would be necessary to call a general strike.

Although the location is a little quiet most of the time, at present, due no doubt in part to the cold weather, a number of the desirable properties are being sold. Particularly in the case of local business and industrial real estate, sufficiently removed from the business center to be the general resort of the largest dealers, too, to the north center. It is especially on the market for some time, was being greatly inquired after, and is being sold at a very low price. One of the most reputable offices reported a buyer for a whole block to be purchased in the location is far enough away from the proposed industrial district to be free from the mills and factories down town. It is situated on the street through with crumbing properties owned by the P. and C. N. R. railroad, and without doubt, one of Edmonton's largest favored locations. The firm who had the foresight to know that this would be Edmonton's new business center.

James Oliver Curwood, one of the foremost American magazine writers, and formerly special investigator for the Canadian Government in the Canadian West, recently completed a tour of the west at the invitation of a number of leading American magazines. In an interview with a representative of the Winnipeg Free Press, he pays a glowing tribute to the possibilities of this great country: "I took him to the west," says Curwood, "and he says that he cannot say too much in his articles regarding the tremendous possibilities and resources of that part of the province. It is snatched by the Grand Trunk Pacific, and particularly of the magnificent regions extending from this side of the Willow River to the coast range."

rich the enormous wealth and possibilities of these regions will be realized, and the three most important in British Columbia are the Fraser, the Bulkley and the Skeena. The Bulkley, Bulkley and Willow Rivers, and each of these rivers is a donor of enormous quantities of mineral timber, and agricultural wealth. The Willow River is located in the very heart of the great Bulkley River valley, and is a river which are already being opened up, and from which it has been estimated that there is enough timber to supply Canada for a century or more will be taken by those regarding it as a source of wealth. The Bulkley River is regarded as a country of impenetrable mountains. The Willow River district will be the first to be opened up, and will yield it, surrounding it, and extending for hundreds of square miles northward to the Bulkley River. The Bulkley River is an unnumbered miles of acres of rich land which is admitted to be the best of the Bulkley River. The Bulkley River only does the timber of splendid mineral, timber and agricultural resources. The Bulkley River is a tremendous water-power resource and nearness to raw materials, to become important.

Inquiry amongst the leading real estate offices of the city shows that there is a good general movement, and, in some sections of Edmonton, there is great activity. The really desirable and money-making propositions are finding the buyers. The greatest demand is found for the places that nature has destined to be the beautiful home locations, and yet contiguous to the mercantile centre of the city, and where one looks the city over for such a location, the spot that wins the eye of the discerning is the choice portions of the city, the streets, and the surrounding the first

It seemed to be the general report of the largest dealers here, that the north-west city of Edmonton, which has been practically off the market for some time, was being greatly enquired after, and Westwood was strongly of opinion that the only way in which a reliable officer received a buyer for a whole block to be put into immediate use, and while they were unwilling to sell at a price which would cover which this block of lots was to be used, and yet enough information was given so that one could learn that this block was for sale, and that the purpose that would exchange the value of the surrounding property and the price quoted on this whole block was a handsome one for the owner. The officer offered for options, and one broker said, with a knowing smile, "No, we are not making option sales in Westwood at present."

The demand for this property was found to be so strong that a personal visit was made to this property, and about the centre of the city, and from the height of land over commanding a beautiful view in any direction. The location is far enough away from the proposed industrial area, and it is situated between the mills and factories down town. It is situated on First street and on Seventh street, the thoroughfare of the city, and is bounded by the G. T. P. and C. N. R. tracks—on Alberta avenue and Woodward avenue, and it was without doubt one of Edmond's most valuable properties. This property was plotted by a firm who had the foresight to know that this would be Edmond's centre for business, and it was a beautiful, restful home, and a fine lot 50x159.

The fire shop owned by I. A. Petch, corner of Twenty-third street and Jasper avenue, caught fire at midnight, the bake oven becoming overheated. The blaze, which was under the floor, was extinguished by chemicals, and water, not however, before a little damage had been done. Companies 2 and 4 responded.

At nine o'clock this morning the fire station received a call from 811 Government avenue, the residence of K. Kaufman. The cook stove had exploded, causing considerable damage. There was, however, no fire.

London, Jan. 16.—A despatch to the Daily Telegraph last night from Constantinople dated January 17th, says the way of Constanza, Roumania, says: "A reign of terror prevails in the Stamboul quarter. An incipient revolt against the porte was quelled by the militia yesterday. The union and progress party demands the resumption of the war."

Large Increase in Number of Aliens Naturalized—Papers Taken Out in Supreme Court of Alberta At Edmonton Number 1298 in 1912.

The number of naturalization papers issued to foreigners settled in Alberta is showing steady increase. During the year 1912 no less than 1258 naturalization papers were taken out in the Supreme Court of Edmonton.

Foreigners show a desire to become British subjects as soon as possible, and it is estimated that of the Gallician population settled on the land in Alberta 90 per cent. are already naturalized.

A large proportion of those taking out naturalization papers were formerly citizens of the United States.
